

From Our Executive Director

As we head into the cold winter months consider doing some professional reading. NRLC would like to support you in a Book Study by gathering colleagues together, online, to engage in professional conversations of teaching and learning. Let us know what book/author you are interested in by filling out this quick NRLC Book Study Google Form!

Shout out to all the teachers, educational assistants, administrators, and school support staff who have been working hard to keep our students safe and providing quality learning over the past two months!

THANK YOU for your dedication and hard work!
